1. Data collection and processing

1.1. Technical data

When you visit REISSWOLF f.i.t. your browser communicates data, which we collect temporarily, in order to make it possible for you to visit REISSWOLF f.i.t.. These are: IP address; date and time of the enquiry; time difference from Greenwich Mean Time (GMT); content of the requirement (specific page); access status/HTTP status code; quantity of data transferred in each case; website, from which the requirement comes; browser; operating system; language and browser software version.

1.2. Contractual and usage data

When you register for our service, we store your data for the purpose of fulfilling the contract. Compulsory statements for the processing of the contract are marked separately, other information is voluntary. When the contractual relationship has ceased, your data is stored only for the period for which we are required by law to store it.

Your data, which are required to make it possible to draw down and invoice our offers, are used solely to process the contract concluded between us.

1.3. Data provided by you / uploaded data

Data, which you yourself store for the use of our services, are processed and stored by us. This includes the production of security copies in our back-up systems.

If you contact us through REISSWOLF f.i.t., we record the data you have communicated. We use the personal data communicated to us in this way solely for the purpose for which you provided them to us, when you contacted us.

1.4. Cookies

In addition, when you use this site, cookies are stored on your computer.

2. Where are my data processed?

As a matter of principle your data are processed in Germany.

3. Data security

We maintain up-to-date technical measures to guarantee data security, in particular to protect your personal data from risk in data transfer and from third parties obtaining information from it. These measures are always revised to meet the current state of the art.

4. Data transfer

In some cases we use external service providers to process your data. These are carefully selected by us and commissioned in writing. They are bound by our instructions and are regularly inspected by us. The service providers shall not transfer the data to third parties.

Furthermore, we may be obliged in accordance with legal provisions to pass on data to government agencies or third parties. Moreover, we transfer data to third parties, only when you have expressly agreed thereto.

5. Information on stored data / correction

You have the right to request information from us at any time about the data concerning you stored by us and about its source, recipients and categories of recipients, to whom these data have been transferred and about the purpose, for which they have been stored.

If you have given your consent to the use of data, you may revoke this at any time with effect for the future.

You may, of course, request at any time that incorrect data is corrected.

6. Previous version

Upon your request, we can provide the previous version of the Data Privacy Statement.
